This is 1966 and is our Indiana Sesquicentennial year. During this year, the people of Indiana will be examining the times and tales of pioneer days. There will be many stories retold of the great men who have forged and shaped the history and the heritage of our state. Also, there will be many special events throughout the year that will commenorate our Indiana Sesquicentennial and 150 years of progress.

As a result of George R. Clark's capture of Vincennes from the British in 1778 and the recapture in 1779, the American flag was finally raised to stay. The consequence of this activity in relation to the Revolutionary War became significant to the United States, then to the formation of the Northwest Territory, then to the Indiana Territory, and finally to the state of Indiana. Following the formation of the Northwest Territory in 1787, many Americans came down the Ohio River to the new land. The main reason for this was that the new land prohibited slavery and guaranteed public education, religious freedom, and civil rights to all people.

The Indiana Territory was created in 1800 and Vincennes became the seat of government. The early pioneers in Indiana were hard working and practical people because the new country challenged their muscle rather than mind. Their family Bible and sometimes one other book were the extent of their cultural tools.

Money was also rare, most commerce being carried out by barter and trade. A man was considered wealthy if he happened to have a dollar in his pocket.

Since these early days, times have indeed changed in the state of Indiana. With the coming of better transportation, the developement of higher education, the state of Indiana has grown to be a state of great strength and importance in our United States. Indeed, during this Sesquicentennial year, we should be grateful to all who have contributed to the growth of our state from its beginning one hundred and fifty years ago.

We are proud of our State of Indiana and our local Sesquicentennial Hendricks County

Art Winner, Sharon Stewart.

We are Proud

As we study to increase our knowledge and as we prepare for our places in life--we show our abilities in all academic fields. To enrich our minds and, therefore to enrich our lives, we become strong, efficient people. Our hopes of the future and successes of the past are marked in these pages.

As we join together to co-operate and to learn, and as we experience satisfaction from projects well done, we find that learning goes beyond books and helps to develop mental awareness as students participate in activities.

With loyalty to our team, our cheerleaders, our school, and ourselves, we enter each athletic contest with the desire, the spirit, and the determination to win, but we also learn to accept defeat with poise and courage.

Advertising is essential for today's business. The merchant's contributions add physical and financial support to our extra-curricular activities. With many students employed locally, we find our school and community are inseparable.

As we prepare ourselves for the future, we find we have progressed academically and socailly, enjoyed success and suffered failure and with determination we will continue our steps forward as we are the HOPE and the LIFE of our Nation.

History Reveals the Social and Economic Problems of Life

A sound understanding of the social economic, and political problems faced by those in the past will better prepare young people of today to be the leaders of tomorrow. One aim of the history department is to impress students with the responsibilities that lie before them.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Nickell, the sophomores have learned much about the past events of the world.

U.S. History creates an appreciation of American Civilization through a comparison of the past to the present. The training is essential not only for graduation but for good citizenship in the future.

Although only U.S. History, Government, and Sociology are required for graduation, most students also take World History for a social studies major.

"Yesterday prepares us for tomorrow" might well be the motto of the social studies classes at N.S.H.S. In these classes, students learn that history repeats itself and prepares us for tomorrow.

Courses of U.S. Government and Sociology prepares students to face the responsibility of an American Citizen.

We are confident that the 1966 grads will be able to go out in the world of today and play their part as American Citizens of tomorrow.

Mr. Gill instructs the U.S. History and Government classes.

Languages Lend to Understanding

Spanish is a popular course in which students learn about the culture and the language of Spanish speaking countries.

The study of foreign language enables the students to obtain a better knowledge of foreign culture, thus creating each individual's opportunity to aid in the long hard road to world peace. Miss Creech instructs the Spanish I class.

Misplaced modifiers, irregular verbs and prepositions that creep into the end of a sentence are all problems of English students.

Mrs. Askew is helping the Freshmen begin a successful high school career by teaching them the important fundamentals of English.

English enables us to communicate with others. It encourages us to increase our skills in reading, writing, speaking and listening. These skills stimulate our abilities in self expression. The knowledge of good English and its uses enables one to have posibilities of achievement and success.

Mrs. Virginia Michael instructs this English II class.

Efficiency Is Our Aim in Commerce

The North Salem business department provides for its students an educational foundation in the understanding of business fundamentals. Bookkeeping stimulates the desires of accuracy, neatness, and of solving financial problems. These young minds are being prepared for the American way of life. The class is taught by Geraldene Huffman.

Speed, accuracy, and exactness of form are familiar words to the business students at NSHS. Mrs. Golden demonstrates to her Shorthand I class the correct method. These Shorthand girls are preparing for the future. They have learned to take dictation quickly and to transcribe neatly and accurately. They may decide to go to college or into an office career.

Office Practice and Advanced Business at NSHS enables students to further their knowledge in office routines and to improve their basic skills.

The Flamin' Demon is also published by these classes. It has opened its colums to all facts and viewpoints considered worthy of notice. It was the ideas and ideals of a school that was reported.

Through constant practice in typing classes the foundation is laid for a career in the business field. Speed is attained through accuracy in typing. The Typing I class under the direction of Geraldene Huffman is typing a Business Letter.

The efficiency with which our business world of tomorrow will function depends largely upon the skills developed by those enrolled in business courses.

Math and Science Interest Grows in Midst of Atomic and Space Age

Just as the world, slowly revolving on its axis, changes night to day, a sound mathematical background can shed some light on the questions which arise every day. The complex calculations of engineering must be mastered and the physical laws concerning force must be comprehended. Businessmen and merchants must have a mathmatical background when "balancing the books" and taking monthly inventory. A housewife must realize the needs of her family to adjust the domestic budget.

Factoring, per cents, functions, identities, theorems--all of these are taught in the NSHS math department by our efficient teachers, Mrs. Nickell and Mr. Thompson.

With our five senses we view and realize the nature, texture and actions of phenomona; but without an explanation of the occurrences, we would be completely in the dark. As each new rocket and astronaut is sent into space and with each particle of iron slowly changing into rust, the study and the learning of all the scientists throughout history are utilized.

Mr. Richard Thompson with his competent teaching abilities in the science department at NSHS, adds many unforgettable moments to our school life.

Biology is the scientific study of living things. Such as, the science of life, the fundamental properties of life, the functional basis of life.

These students have studied everything from the lowly, one-celled ameba to the highest creature of all, the human.

Safety, Appreciation and Skills Are Mastered

Health and Safety students learn more about the functions of the various organs of the body. Due to the rising statistics of accidents in the homes and on the roads "Safety first" is the motto of this class taught by Mr. Alexander.

Nothing can put appreciation into life like art at its best. Extensive study and participation in these areas offer greatly enriching experiences for those enrolled in the fine arts department. Talented students are continually being encouraged and challenged by their teacher, Mrs. Hamilton. WE ARE PROUD OF Sharon Stewart, who won the Hendricks County Sesquicentennial Art Contest.

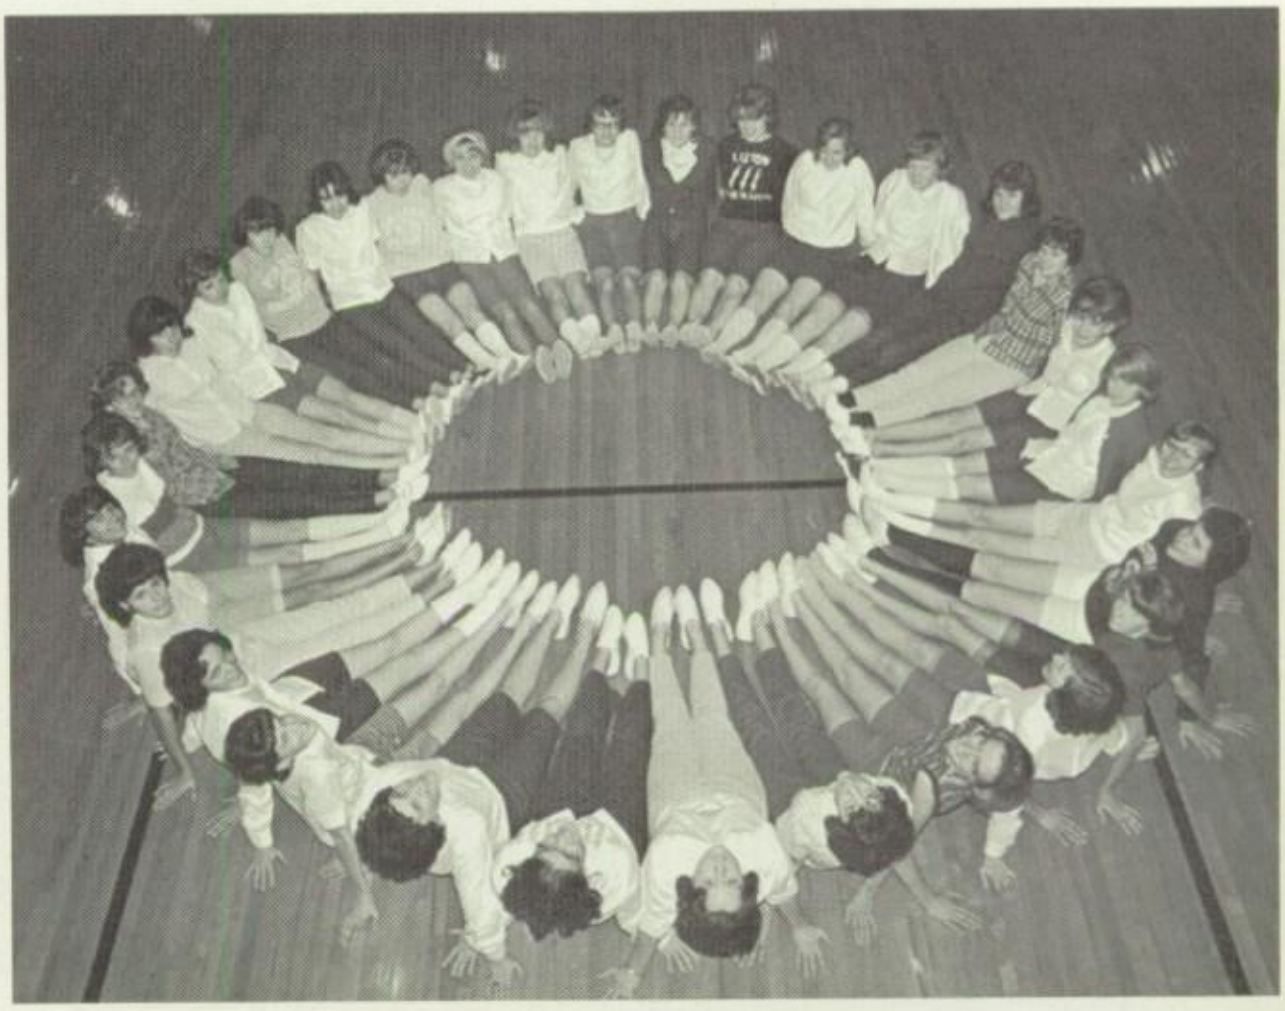
The ability to competently manage a home requires careful planning and extensive preparation. In the home economics department, girls develop domestic skills through selected courses from sewing and culinary arts to home management.

While homemaking classes I and II are concerned with sewing and cooking skills, those enrolled in units III and IV are training child care, home nursing, and home decoration. The instructor is Mrs. Lawson.

The chief occupation of the people of Indiana is agriculture. Because of this, it is very important that we have a modern course of the subject. The newest procedures of farming are taught in our agriculture classes by Mr. McCoy.

Also under the direction of Mr. McCoy, the practical arts offer many and varied occupations to the young people of today.

PE Classes Stress Physical Fitness



The Girls' P.E. class, under the supervision of Mrs. Manley, participated in a program of various sports. Students can become skillful and accurate in many varied sports such as kick-ball, volleyball, softball, dodge-ball, and basketball, as well as getting the body physically fit through calisthenics. Skills such as these assist girls in building confidence and character. Working together in P.E. class is a stepping stone to working with others in the future.

Look at the expressions on these boys faces! On the count of 10 this pyramid collasped.

The Boys' P.E. class, under the guidance of Mr. Haskett, has set a goal for better physical fitness. During this period the boys enjoy a vigorous program of calisthemics and a variation of team sports and tumbling.

During nice weather the boys go outside to participate in baseball, touch football, and soccer. The physical education program helps to develop the physical coordination and mental alertness of the participating boys.

Pyramid building really takes coordination and perfect balance. The boys display perfection on this pyramid.

Competent Girls Perform Varied Duties

Those students with an interest in the library found great reward in being a student librarian.

The student librarians come to the library during their study halls to help Mrs. Michael, the school librarian, with the daily library activities. Some of their duties included helping to find certain materials, checking out books and magazines, and putting them back in their proper places on the shelves.

The library is a vital part of our school life because it is here we find a whole world of information in one room. Thanks, librarians, for your helpfulness and efficiency in assisting us to enrich our knowledge in the field of education.

These competent girls perform the many and varied tasks which are a vital part of every school day.

Each girl must exhibit qualities of efficiency, dependability, and courtesy, making each a cheerful asset to the busy office.

Throughout the day, these girls give immediate attention to such duties as answering the office telephones, cutting master copies, operating the duplicating machine, issuing the absence lists, delivering messages, and attending to the special requests of the office staff.

Although the office assistants receive no high school credits for their work, they do gain practical experience which will be of inestimable value to them in future years of clerical work.

Queen Sandy and King Greg Reigned Over 1966 Echo

King Greg Chastain crowned Sandy James as the 1966 Echo Queen.

Queen Sandy James, was crowned by King Greg Chastain, at the Echo Dance. She was then presented a beautiful bouquet of pink roses.

The king and queen were chosen from the senior class to reign over their yearbook, the Echo. The 1966 Echo IS PROUD OF, Sandy James and Greg Chastain as its queen and king.

Members of the court were Hedy Morehead, Tom Griggs; Nancy Jackson, and Edwin Roark.

Queen Sandy, King Greg, and their court were announced at the Freshmen - Senior reception.

The crowning of the queen, on this lovely evening, was preceded with breathless anticipation. Queen Sandy and King Greg will always remember this memorable occasion.

King Greg presented Queen Sandy with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow," the theme song of this memorable occasion will always be in the seniors' hearts forever. In fact, they have no words to voice all that was in their hearts on this special occasion--the loyalty they felt to N.S.H.S., the gratitude to their friends and faculty members and most of all, their pride in Queen Sandy, King Greg, and the lovely court.

Couples enjoyed an evening of dancing and entertainment as they danced to the music of the Ray Edwards Dance Band.

N.S.H.S. Freshmen Escorted by Seniors Through Rainbow Portal

The North Salem Freshmen were escorted through a beautifully decorated rainbow into the "Rainbow to Success" Saturday evening, November 20, 1965 by the seniors who introduced them and welcomed them to N.S.H.S.

A gymnasium transformed into a "Rainbow to Success" made a perfect atmosphere for the first North Salem Freshmen-Senior reception of the North West Hendricks Schools.

Ed Roark, senior, and Phil Blake, freshman, class presidents, gave the welcome and acceptance speeches. Ed told the freshmen that according to the legend, there is a "pot of gold" at the end of the rainbow. It is the lure of this pot of gold which keeps students climbing no matter how rough the rainbow road may be.

Rapidly, freshmen, your lives will slip by and the end of the rainbow will loom before you.

As the seniors, freshmen, and guests danced the night away to the music of the Ray Edwards Dance Band, numerous freshmen and seniors could say that this was a memorable night which they would never forget and could add to their pleasant memories of N.S.H.S.

Students await the presentation of the next freshman.

Entering through the rainbow portal, Jane Hamilton, senior introduces Tom Walthen, freshman.

Students will soon dance to the music of the Ray Edwards Dance Band.

Realizing That Every Cloud Has a Silver Lining

The Freshmen and Seniors gaze at the "Rainbow to Success," while they await the start of the dance.

Every color of the rainbow could be seen in the beautiful gymnasium at the Freshmen-Senior Reception. "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was the theme song of this--the first semi-formal dance of the year. All the colors of the rainbow were carried out in the crepe paper decorations and in the silver rainbow which, reflecting colored lights, gave an illusion of the rainbow hues. Dainty refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the lovely senior girls.

Since every cloud has a silver lining the Freshmen and Seniors realize they will find Success at the Rainbow's End.

Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of girls and boys studying homemaking. As an integral part of the homemaking program, FHA provides opportunities for students to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking.

The emblem of the Future Homemakers of America is an octagonal plane symbolizing its eight purposes. The colors of the organization are red, suggesting strength, and white, a symbol of sincerity. Another symbol of the organization is the red rose, because the flower gives joy through its beauty and fragrance, and symbolized the search for beauty in everyday living.

The aims and purposes of the Future Farmers of America are to develop competent, organized farming and to raise the standards of farming procedures in the country. The national emblem of the F.F.A. is significant and meaningful. It is composed of five symbols: the owl, the sign of wisdom; the plow, the sign of labor; the rising sun, the sign of progress; the cross-section of an ear of corn, representing common agricultural interests; and the eagle, indicating the national scope of the organization. This year, under the supervision of Mr. McCoy, the F.F.A. gave a dance for the F.H.A. girls and organized a F.F.A. basketball team.

4-H er's Strive "To Make the Best Better"

The official 4-H Club Emblem is a four-leaf clover with the letter "H" on each leaflet, meaning the development of Head, Heart, Hands, and Health. This symbolizes development of the whole person--mentally, emotionally, spiritually, and physically.

The 4-H Pledge sets forth the objectives of the 4-H Club members.

I pledge my HEAD to clearer thinking; my HEART to greater loyalty; my HANDS to larger service; and my HEALTH to better living for my club, my community, and my country.

The goal of 4-H is stated in the Motto: To Make the Best Better. You can always find evidence of 4-H members "Making the Best Better."

These 4-H'ers began early in the spring to plan the projects which they were to exhibit in the Hendricks County Fair the latter part of July and the first few days of August. The Junior Leader's displayed their skills by lending a helping hand. When the days of the fair arrived, the judges selected those exhibits worthy of being shown at the State Fair. After each exhibit was carefully labled and made to look its best, it was surrounded by the top exhibits from all over the state. Once again it was judged and awarded its respective ribbon.

WE ARE PROUD OF Nancy Jackson, who was chosen Miss Union Township.

Honors Are Awarded Good Citizens

Linda Morrical was selected as the 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score in a written knowledge and attitude examination. General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the program, awarded her a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin to signify her achievement.

Character, leadership and a myriad of other qualities which are envisioned in our ancestors who fought in the Revolutionary War are the characteristics which singularized Nancy Jackson as the, recipient of the DAR Good Citizenship Award.

This honor, presented by the Daughters of the American Revolution, is annually bestowed upon one deserving senior girl who is chosen by a vote of her classmates and faculty.

Talented students are continually being encouraged and challenged by the direction of accomplished instructors to create. Sharon Stewart accepted this challenge to be chosen winner in the Hendricks County Sesquicentennial Seal Contest. Miss Stewart won the honor with her entry which depicted a map of the county with the official Sesquicentennial Emblem superimposed on it, all contained within a circle.

For one week during the summer at Indiana University, representatives to Hoosier Girls' State are instructed in the principles of our democracy through living and working in mythical city, county, and state governing bodies.

Hedy Morehead of North Salem and Peggy Pritchett of Lizton represented their respective communities at Hoosier Girls' State in 1965.

National Honor Society is an organization with the purposes of creating enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulating a desire to render service, promoting worthy leadership, and encouraging the development of character in students.

Sophomores who have met certain requirements may become probationary members after which they are judged on the four qualities for a year. If students have met the requirements at the end of the probationary period, they will become active members, yet they may be dropped during the next two years for the lack of them. Upon graduation from high school, they become graduate members.

To be a member of the National Honor Society is truly an honor.

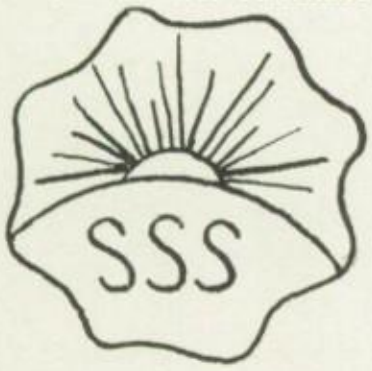
SSS Instills in Others High Ideas and Ideals

North Salem Sunshine Society endeavers to bring joy, cheer, love, and helpfulness to our society and community.

Yellow one of the Sunshine Colors, symbolizes the light and warmth of the sun. It helps the Sunshine Society to be what the sun is to the earth. As they pledge this token they also spread sunshine and help make the community a more beautiful place in which to live.

White, the other Sunshine Color, stands for purity which strives for purer thoughts. With love in their hearts, they will make the object of their lives helpfulness and kindness to others. A pure mind harbors no evil thoughts.

These self-inquiries are the way in which each Sunshine Girl should close her day. They are the road that leads to virtue and God. It is the desire for all the Sunshine Society members to accept as the ideals of their lives the ideas that are portrayed in the song, "My Sunshine Girl."



The Rays of the Sunshine Society are portrayed here by the sumbolic Sunshine "S". These smiling faces of the officers will surely bring happiness to others. Left to right: D. Frazier, S. Sherrard, C. Owen, M. Graham, H. Morehead, and C. Walker.

The duties of the Sunshine officers are their desires that their influences may at all times be an inspiration and guide to the Sunshine Society.

The Student Council is government of the students, by the students and for the students. It encourages co-operation and understanding between the administration and the student body. This group consists of elected members of each class. This year, with the help of their sponsor, Mr. Thompson, this group has sponsored sock hops, locker inspections, and the Homecoming festivities.

The officers, left to right, are: A. Hadley, Treasurer; C. Owen, Secretary; J. Vincent, Reporter; S. Ziegler, Vice-President; G. Michael, Parliamentarian; G. Chastain, President.

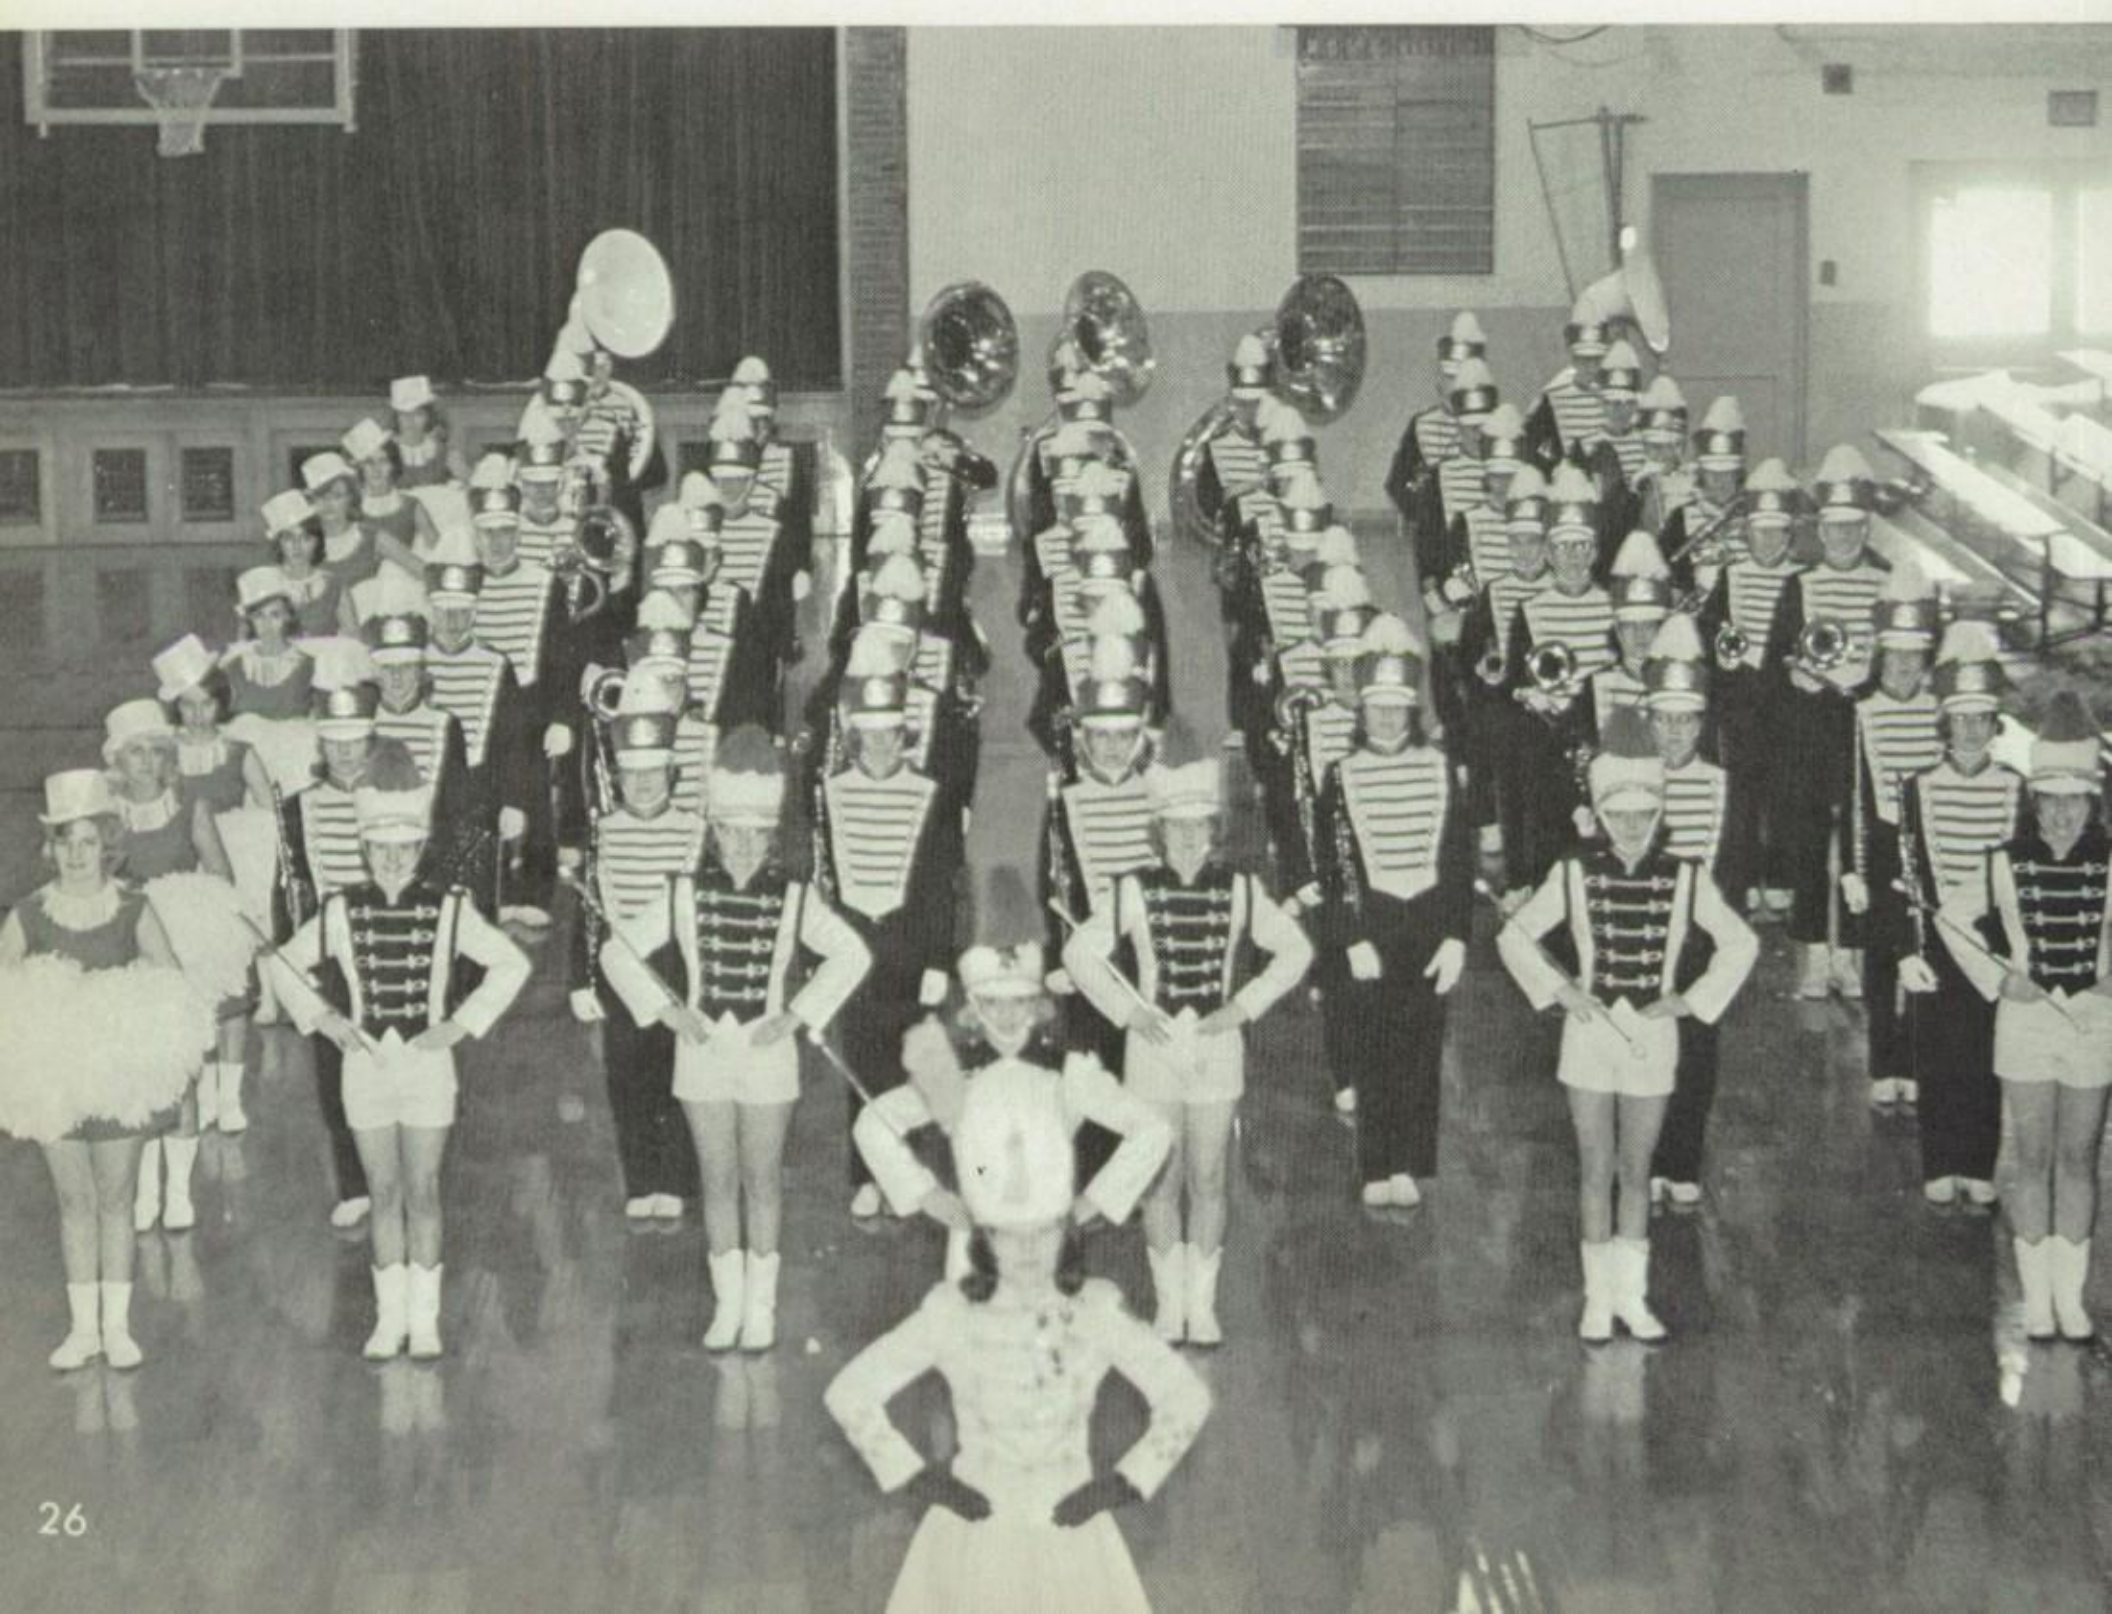
The North Salem High School Homecoming of 1965 was one of color, beauty, and excitement. Friday night, December 3, 1965, the alumni came to cheer the basketball team to victory over the Russelville Bees with a score of 54-51.

The evening was highlighted by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Miss Sammy Sherrard, candidate of the junior class. She was crowned and presented a dozen red roses by Jerry Jones and Rick Sconce, senior basketball players.

The queen's court consisted of the other candidates who were selected by the various classes, the basketball team and the band. Ecah member of the court was presented with a red rose and each added a special touch to the evening.

The evening was brought to a close by the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the student council.

we are Proud of our Band



The North Salem Band, under the direction of Craig Mitchell, is designed to perform three functions. It educates its students, furnishes music for the school and aids in community and civic events.

To its own membership it aids in musical education, gives an appreciation of fine music and develops skills in individual performance.

To the school it gives music for any occasion. During the entire year, the convocations, and ball games are enlivened by its music while the Color Guard adds dignity to the opening ceremonies. The marching band is a part of the basketball season, with its colorful half-time shows, it is a morale builder to all. The NSHS band has done well in instilling in many of us the love of music. It has helped us understand a little better what man is thinking...his joys, his sorrows, his pain, his pleasures, and his way of life. Music could be a strong link in bringing nations closer together, for if we can understand the music of the different races and people of the world, we can better understand their problems.

Music somehow washes away the dust of every day living and makes us cleaner, better people. WE ARE PROUD OF our North Salem band and are glad that it is active. We are grateful for all it has done to make us a better school.

Helpfulness Is Rendered by Students

At the first of every school year the officers prepare a student handbook for new members of the band. This handbook contains the fundamentals of the concert and marching bands. The band officers are always willing to help a new member of the band whenever the need arises.

Every year several girls volunteer to help Mr. Mitchell keep the band and chorus music in an orderly manner. Whenever a member needs a particular selection, the librarians have it filed in a way which makes the handling a simple matter.

The Chorus Officers have worked along with Mr. Mitchell in trying to improve the chorus. They are always at hand to explain a difficult arrangement to any student who has trouble with it.

Girls Display Vim, Vigor and Vitality

Pom Pon girls with their smiling faces and flashy pom pons added to the color of the band whenever and wherever they set out to march. Whether it was the school song or a salute to our servicemen these girls were ready with the pep and vitality needed to arouse spirit in others.

These girls were the Pom Pon back-up power. Whenever one of the other girls were not able to march. These girls were ready and eager to fill the position. Varied routines called for flags and pom pons of red and white. These girls also assisted the other pom pon girls in getting ready for various band shows.

With smiles, routines, and batons these girls were always ready to put on a good show with the rest of the band. A better band show called for a better routine and these girls were ready to march when the whistle blew. Twirlers help set the pace for the rest of the band and keep the pep and spirit rolling.

Musicians and Instructors Display Perfection

The North Salem Dance Band under the supervision of Mr. Craig Mitchell is an extra-curricular organization enriched with the souns of music. First Row: Tom Griggs, Diana Miller, Margie Hayes, Jim Griggs, Rhonda Miller, Jody Morehead, Mary Kingery, Mike Peters, Alice Nickell, Mike Ross. Second Row: Marilyn Pritchett, Gregg Chastain, Janet Nicekll, Cherie Owen, Joan Hamilton, Don Crawford. Third Row: Richard Huff.

Nine NSHS students participated in the District Solo and Ensemble Contest. Six of the top award winners also participated in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Many hours are spent practicing and perfecting pom pon routines under the supervision of pom pon captain Sandy James.

A drum majorette must demand discipline in the execution of precise routines. Hedy Morehead, as drum majorette is also expected to personify the pomp and glamour of a marching band.

As captain of the twirlers Bonnie Wise must direct routines and supervise practice. Twirling is a skill that requires coordination and timing. And these assets require practice which develops good form.

The Chorus, under the capable direction of Mr. Craig Mitchell, is an outstanding asset to our school and community. It is designed to perform three functions. It educates its students, furnishes music for the school, and aids in community and civic events. It also gives an appreciation of fine music and develops skills in individual performance. To the school it gives music for any occasion.

Music has been a part of life from the earliest times, so it continues to be an integral part of expression and communication in our culture. The United States has a rich, varied heritage of songs and orchestral music from many lands throughout the world. Our high school curriculum presents a well-rounded program of classic and contemporary selections.

. . . With a Song in Their Hearts

Each year, ten members of our chorus are chosen to attend the State Choral Festival. Those who attended this year are: S. Chastain, E. Roark, G. Chastain, T. Griggs, M. Peters, M. Ross, D. Frazier, J. Hamilton, N. Jackson, H. Morehead.

A new choral group, which was just added to the Music program this year, is the Madrigals. This group, consisting of the following nine seniors: P. Pritchett, M. Ross, H. Morehead, E. Roark, N. Jackson, T. Griggs, J. Hamilton, G. Chastain, and J. Hamilton, has participated in school convocations and numerous community activities. They also entered the district contest and brought back a first. WE ARE PROUD OF them and hope that the future Madrigal groups will be as successful and well liked.

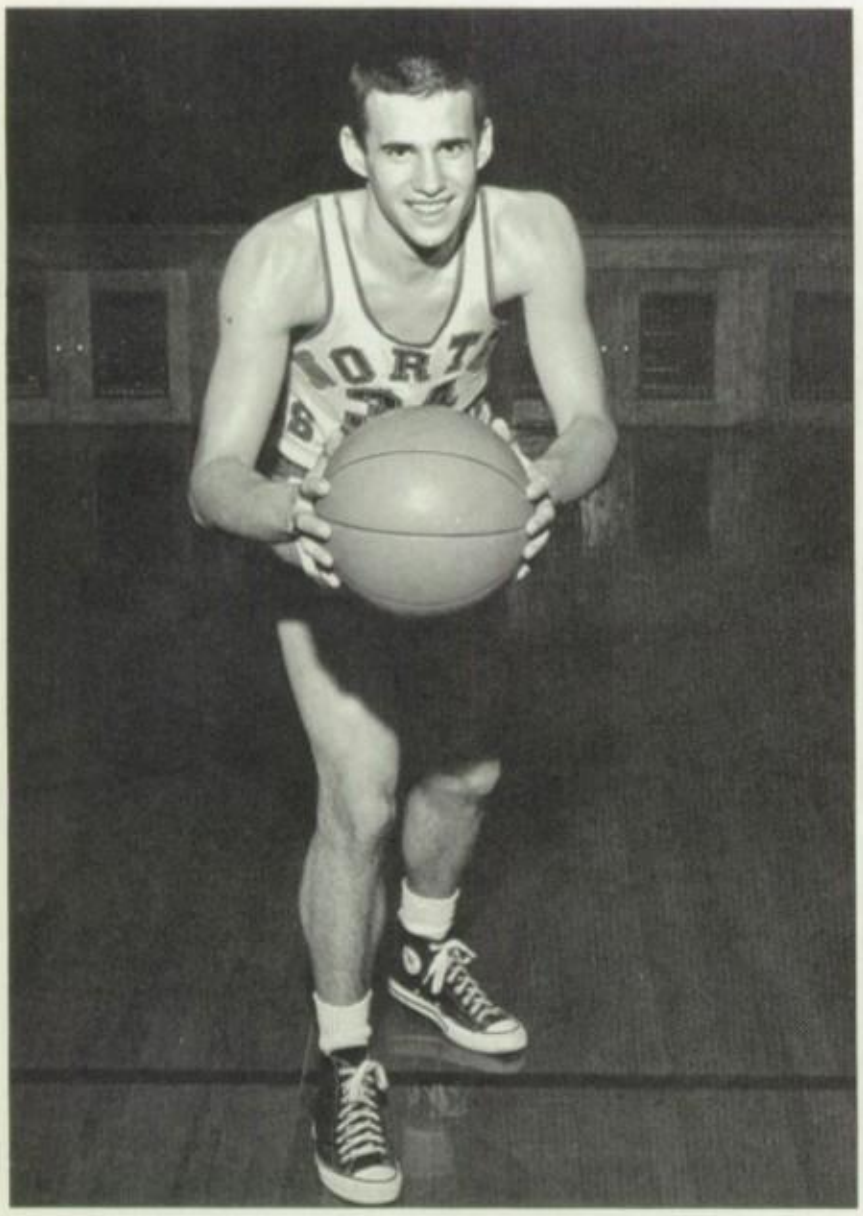
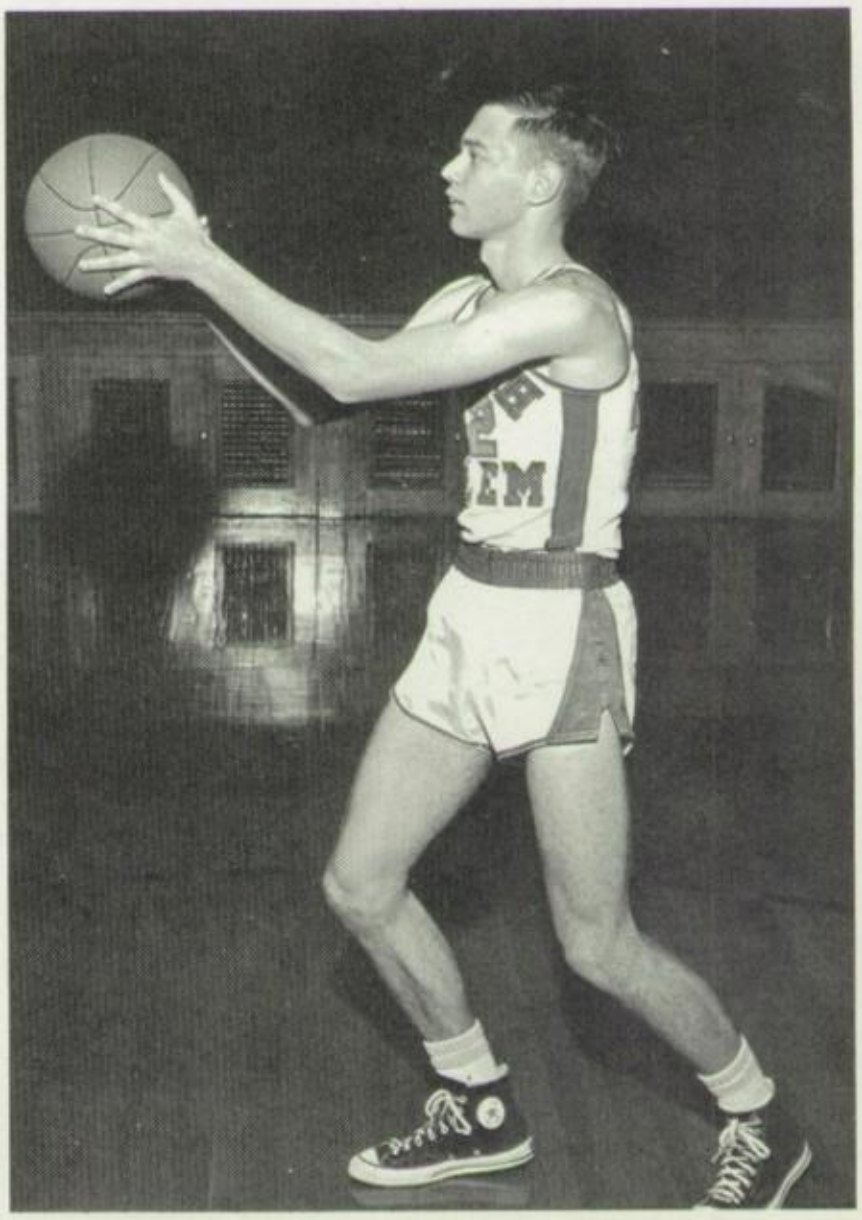
N.S.H.S. Blue Devils Lose Senior Netmen



Jerry Jones

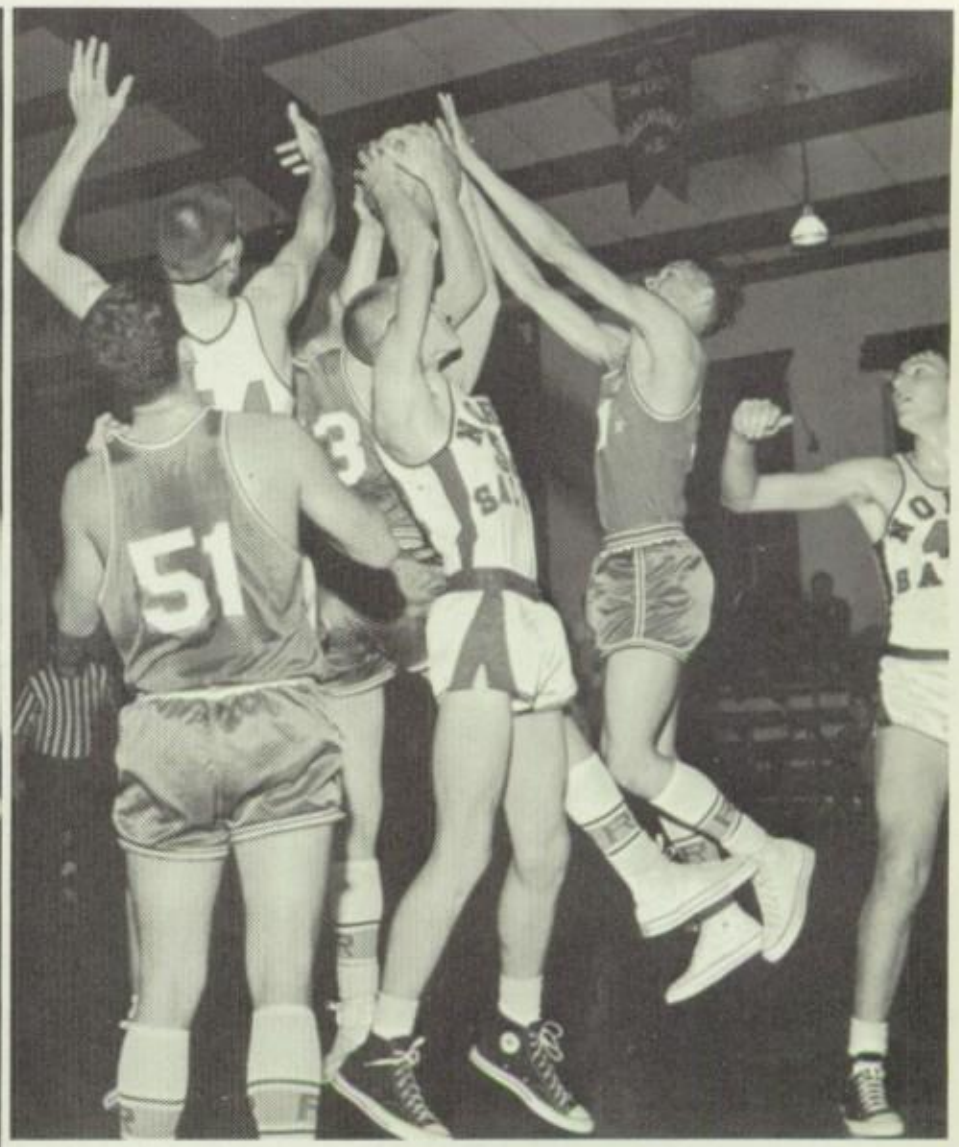
Senior player, Jerry Jones, has displayed sportsmanship this year as a varsity ballplayer. He also strived to be a real team member, for teamwork is so essential in this game. As an experienced player he provided encouragement and promoted enthusiasm among the other team members.

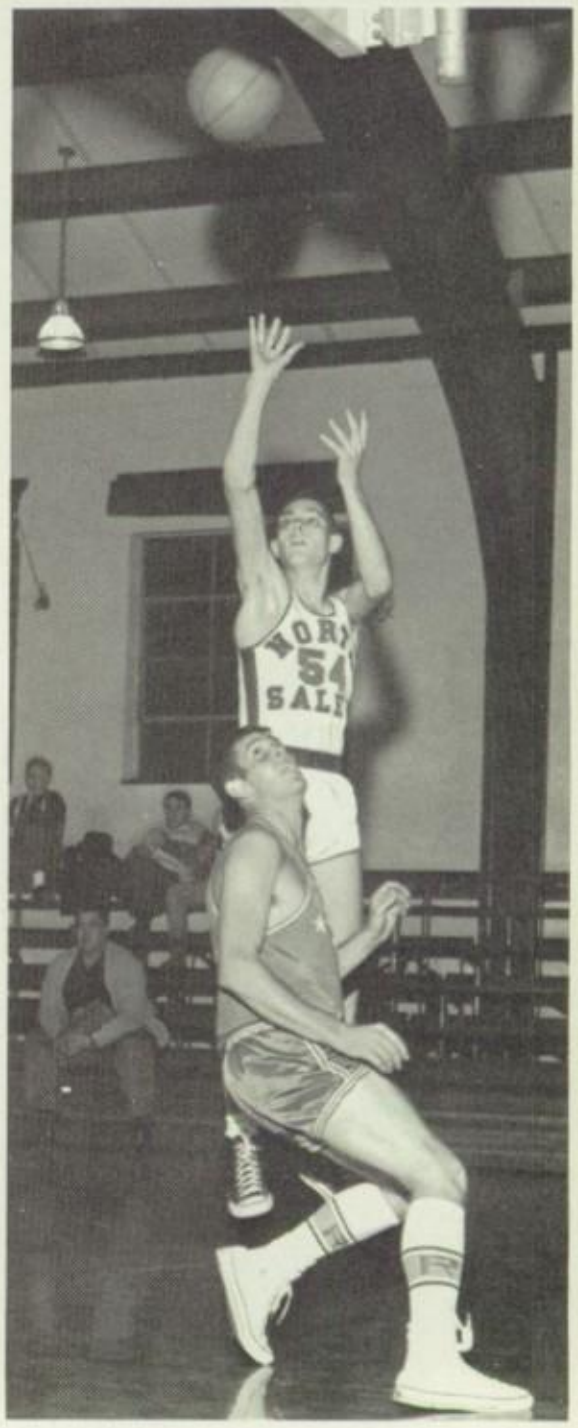
Rick Sconce



Senior player, Rick Sconce, showed drive and determination this year as a varsity ballplayer. He too realized the importance of teamwork in the sport of basketball. Going into the games with the right attitudes, has been a real asset to him.

Blue Devils Display Action in Basketball





Winning or Losing, Cheerleaders Back Our Team

Cheerleaders expand vast amounts of energy, imagination, and enthusiasm to insure that the morale of the fans and the teams stays at the highest possible level.

At the beginning of each school year tryouts are held before the entire student body. The four girls polling the most votes in the secret ballot election become cheerleaders for the year.

Through constant practice after school and on weekends, the girls devise varied and imaginative yells, songs, and routines to keep the crowds pleased and the teams fighting. When tourney time rolls around, the performance of the North Salem block section is the crowning glory to the cheerleaders' year of achievement.

In truth, the coveted position of cheerleaders belonged only to a hard-working few. The cheerleaders job was not the visible one of shimmering limelight but one of planning and responsibility. There were cheers to be worked out and pep meetings to be planned but the biggest requirement of all was to put her heart into every cheer even when the team was losing.

Energetic Cheerleaders Back Team All the Way

Mary Graham

The North Salem cheerleaders did much to promote good team spirit with their efficiency in leading yells. There are "four" reasons why, at all our basketball games there is always great enthusiasm, vigor and spirit, and keeping the student body in perfect voice when giving the traditional North Salem yell.

From the sidelines, the cheerleaders persuaded fans to cheer in unison at all our ball games. During the quarters the gym resounded with North Salem cheers.

Beverly Hallam

The cheerleaders, Mary Graham, Kathy Smith, Beverly Hallam, and Carol Wyeth, worked diligently with the Pep Club members to teach them new yells and motions, but most of all they put their hearts into cheering the Devils on to victory.

Kathy Smith

One of the most important assets required of a cheerleader is genuine school spirit. This is the necessary inner spark that stimulates the desires to win. Our yell leaders do much to promote student body enthusiasm with their school spirit. Whether winning or losing our Devils receive solid support.

The North Salem Devils were enthusiastically supported by N.S.H.S. Pep Club. The Club, varying its cheer block from game to game, worked industriously during each practice session preceding a game. They displayed their vim, vigor, and vitality at the Homecoming game by cheering the basketball team to victory over the Russellville Bees, with a score of 54-51. Sammy Sherrard, Debbie Frazier, Kathy Leak, and Marge Graham did much to promote student body enthusiasm to win this game.

Administration

North West Hendricks School Board an

The newly formed North West Hendricks Schools have increased the responsibilities of the School Board. Through approving bills presented, employing all school personnel, and budgeting finances, the board is able to insure maximum quality and efficiency in the school system.

MR. BRUNO LUPATO, Superintendent

Our administration was faced with the numerous problems concerning the recent consolidation. Mr. Bruno Lupato, superintendent, devoted much time to the betterment of the schools. He is always at hand to answer any questions about our recent consolidation or any other problem that is puzzling the public concerning the operation of the North West Hendricks Schools.

Mrs. Nancy Birdsong is secretary to the superintendent and the North West Hendricks Schools. She is constantly kept busy with numerous duties, but meets everyone with a pleasant attitude and open mind.

Mrs. Ruth Rutledge, secretary to the superintendent, performs the innumerable tasks of a secretary. She is always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone who needs it.

Administration Create School Policies

Often in English class when a student struggles with the meanings of "principal" and "principle", the teacher sometimes hints that the school principal is a "pal" to everyone, and our principal is certainly no exception. He is generally seen with pencil in hand thinking of the welfare of the faculty and student body. Mr. Shirrel Alexander, constantly striving for high academic standards is always ready to help any pupil from the "timid" freshman to the "diginified" senior.

Mr. Richard Thompson, Vice Principal, not only lends a helping hand in the administration of our school, but also strives to make the lives of the students pleasant and meaningful. Through his teaching of science and mathematics immeasurable knowledge is gained by the students.

Numerous responsibilities are placed upon the shoulders of the school secretary, only to carried with a pleasant smile and never ending strength. Well-known and respected by the entire student body, Mrs. Coons has provided the school with an inestimable service.

Throughout the year, as grades and homework press us constantly, it is reassuring to know that someone is pulling for us. Mrs. Virginia Michael, guidance counselor, endeavors to understand the complicated problems and troubles of every student. Through individual counseling she is able to give answers to the varied array of questions--social, domestic, and educational.

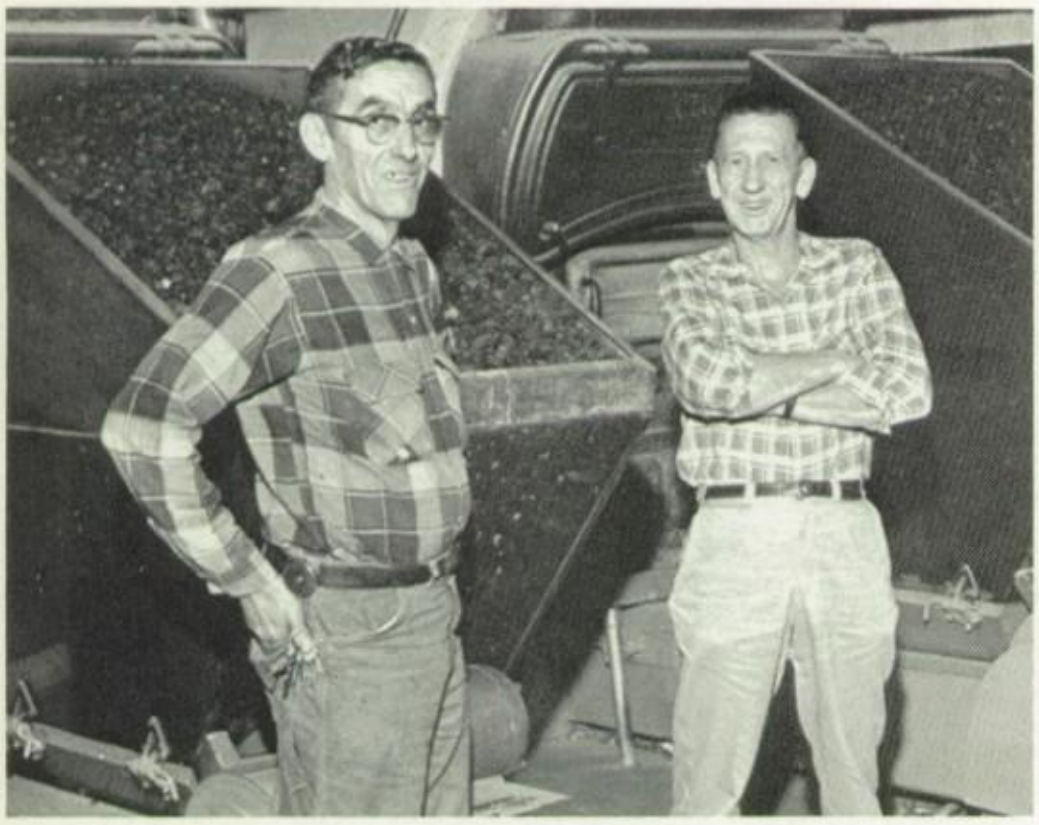
Cleanliness, Nutrition and Safety Are Their Goals



Whether cleaning, painting, or helping a perplexed student open his locker, the custodians are continually displaying their willingness to serve the school in many ways. At all hours during the day these industrious men are seen cleaning halls and classrooms, polishing windows, and performing the numerous other duties so necessary in maintaining an attractive building.

Mr. Walter Meyers and Mr. Owen Stewart

Our capable cooks spend long hours planning and preparing menus to please every appetite. Despite the increase in school enrollment, these experienced women have maintained the high level of efficiency for which our cafeteria is noted.

Mrs. Cora Jaynes, Mrs. Helen Sellers, Mrs. Maxine Miller, Mrs. Lou Jane Pace

Transporting students in all kinds of weather--through rain, sleet, and snow--is not always an easy task for the bus drivers. WE ARE PROUD OF our capable bus drivers who are Jessie Trent, Lewis Norman, Howard Stamper, Gene Freeland, and Laurel Martin.

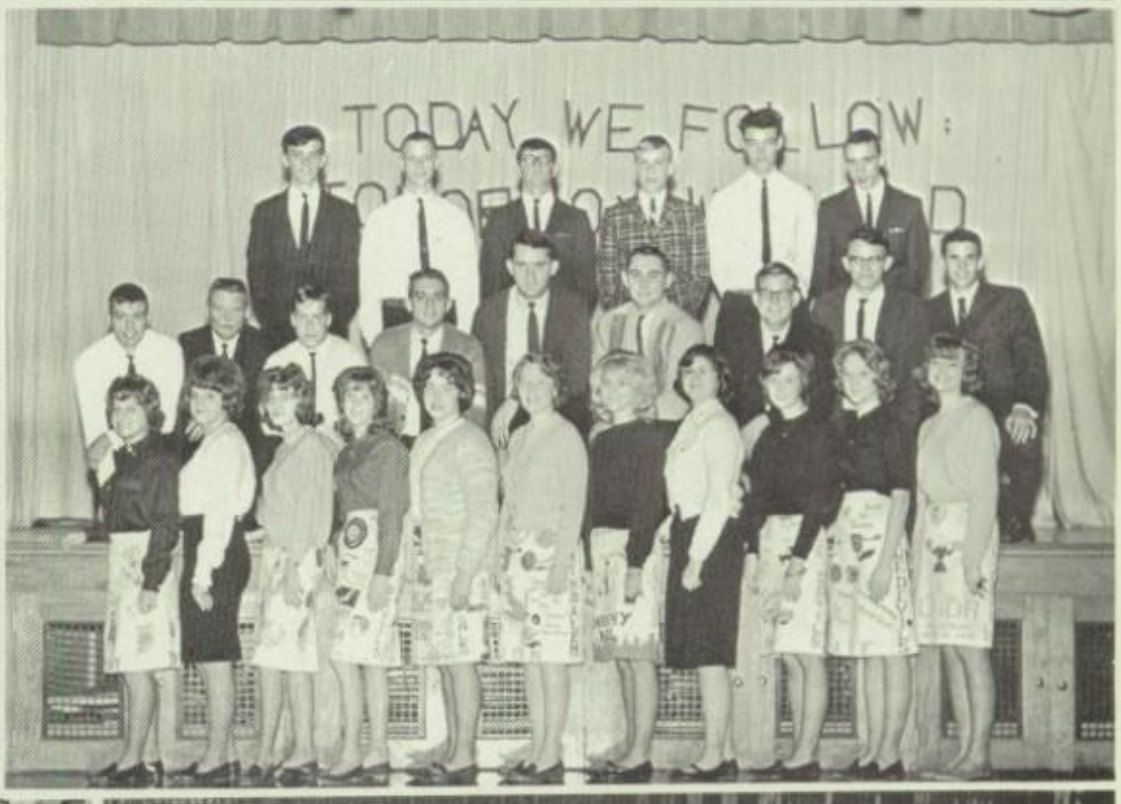
Knowledge Comes; but Wisdom Lingers

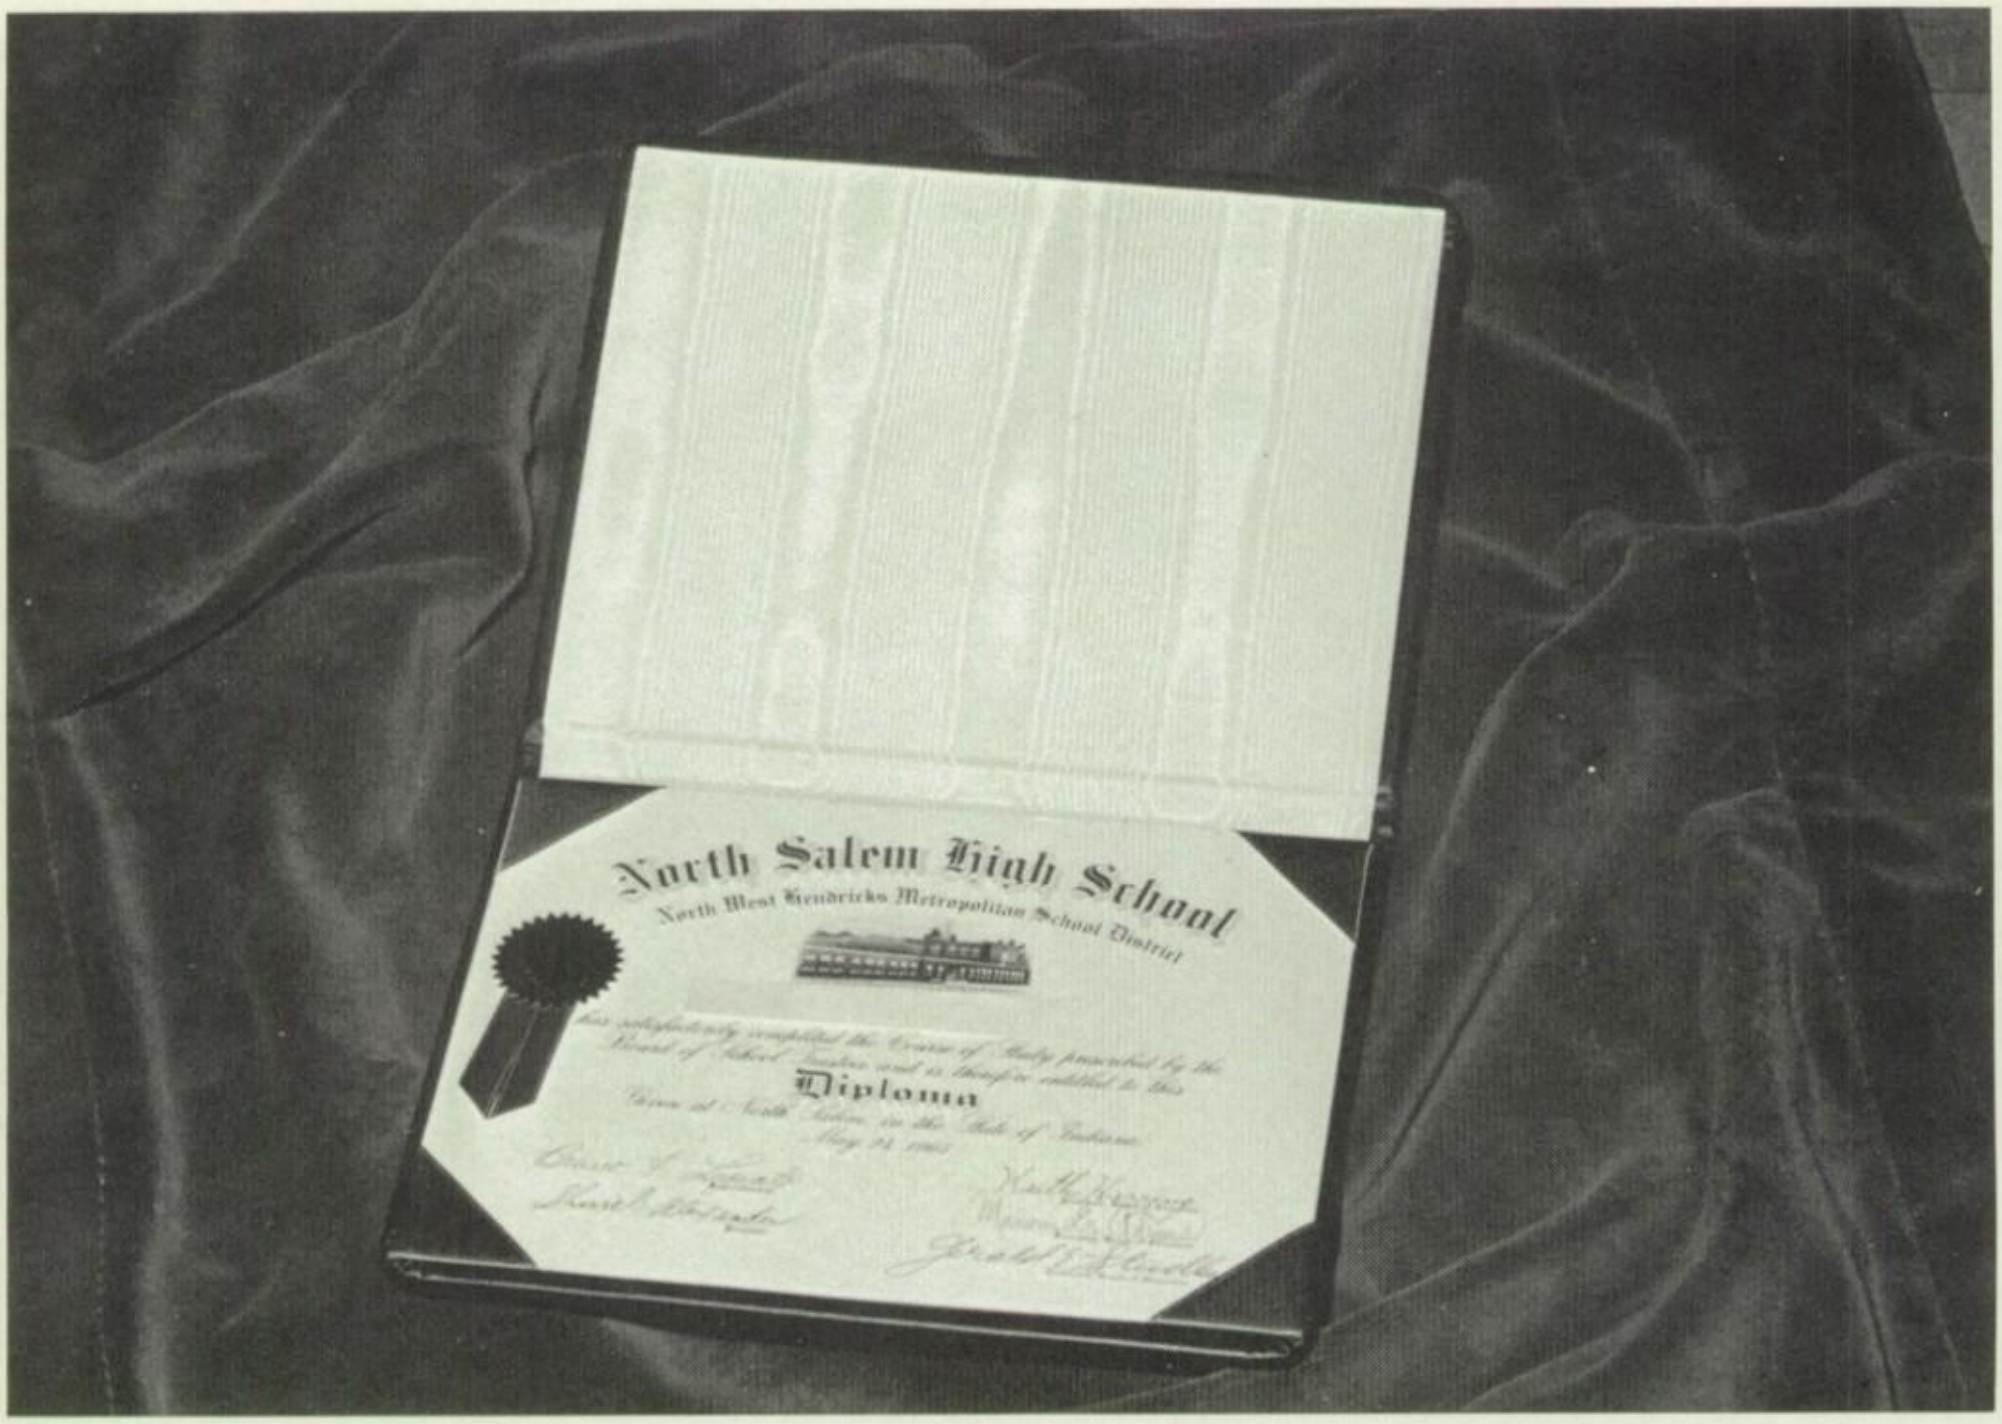
Quiet remembrances of the past and stirring challenges for the future combined to make the 1966 Commencement exercises of the North Salem High School sentimental. For twelve years the graduating seniors had eagerly sought knowledge and had been occupied with the tremendous task of learning. However, their lessons had not come only from text books but also from the many experiences of working together in school organizations and class projects. The receptions, senior cords, parties and career planning sessions and the final frolicksome Senior Day were all now happy memories of a fleeting senior class. The impressive baccalaureate service found the graduates, dressed for the first time in their iridescent burgundy robes, seated pensively before a speaker's podium. They listened attentively as the minister delivered his inspirational message on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the North Salem Gymnasium.

At Commencement, on Sunday evening, at 8:00 p.m., May 22, 1966, at the North Salem Gymnasium, as the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" filled the auditorium, the seniors filed down the aisle in procession marked with dignity and decorum.

The address was given by Harlan M. White, Director of Admissions of Purdue University. Diplomas were distributed by Mr. Shirrel Alexander, Principal. Following the benediction, friends, and relatives extended their congratulations to this 1966 North Salem Graduating class.

School Activities Bring Work, Fun, and Fellowship





A diploma is a passport that introduces a new way of life. But far and near, our travels can never erase the interchangeable imprint between us and our school. Many events were sadly greeted for the final time and became a part of the anxieties of making ready for a formal dance, the undying school spirit, the sight of overwhelming disbelief on faces of those chosen kings and queens, and the tense excitement at tourney time. All these and many more were experienced for the last time. A diploma .. a simple, cherished folder .. slowly closed the doors on our high school years, but it opens the door to opportunity.

WE ARE PROUD OF the Lizton School of the North West Hendricks Schools. Even though reorganization confronted them they have met the challenge with faith and understanding realizing that Lizton has the foundation built and will continue to progress in higher education. The esteem in which the school is held is evidence of the concerned effort of those dedicated and sincere parents, friends, and teachers. We are positive that the eighth graders from the Lizton School will be sufficiently prepared and ready to continue their high school education in the North Salem School of the North West Hendricks Schools. They will then establish fine records in higher education throughout America and in the American Way Of Life.

Mr. Larry King, Principal of the Lizton School, possesses a quiet devotion toward the school and those who are related to it. He is a friend of many, a man admired and respected by all who come in contact with him. Principal King has proven his leadership abilities.

Administration and Faculty Skillfully Direct Eager Young Minds

Mr. Larry King, Principal of the Lizton School, is not only a prominent figure in our school system, but is also a friend to the students, parents, and faculty. He strives to make the lives of the students pleasant and meaningful, and is always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone who needs it. Mr. King is in charge of grades one through eight, and has built up the scholastic prestige of the Lizton School.

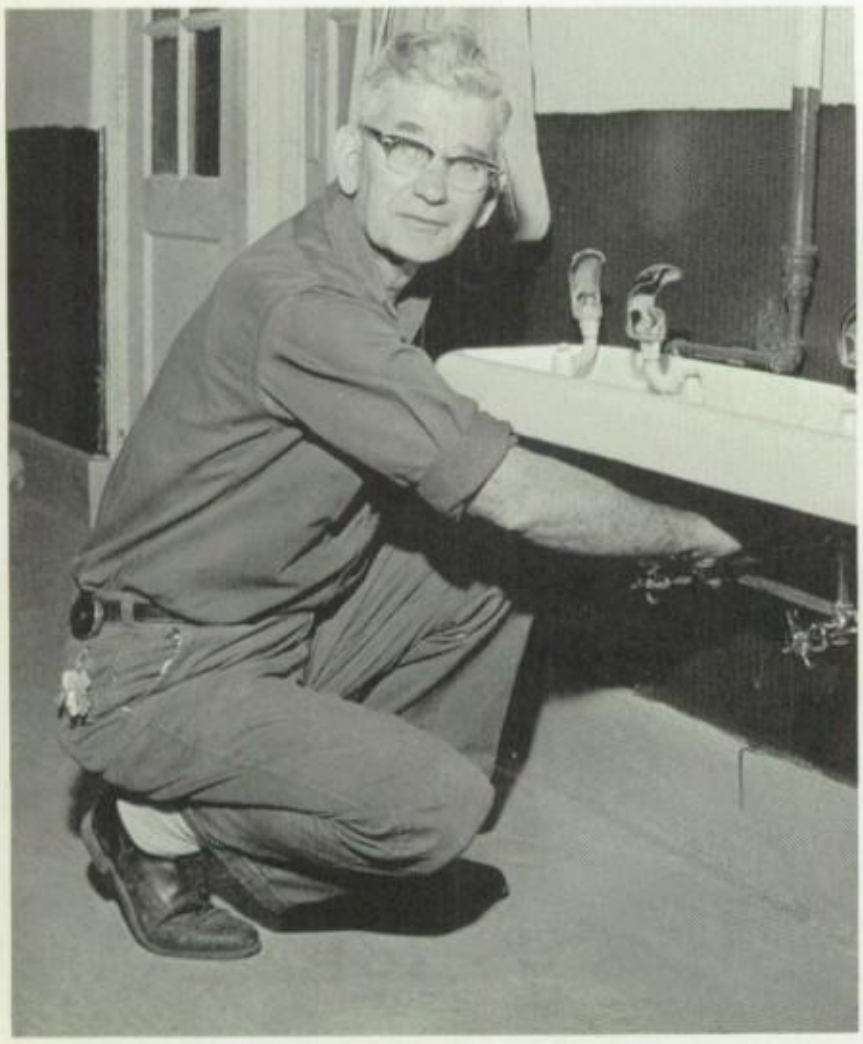
Cleanliness, Nutrition and Safety Are Their Mottoes



Mr. Emerald Land

School custodian, Mr. Emerald Land, spends many long hours cleaning and keeping the Lizton School in top notch condition. When school is over, the halls and rooms must be cleaned, the blackboards washed, and the numerous other necessary tasks completed in order to prepare the building for another active, busy day. Mr. Land, "Paints Up", "Cleans Up", "Fixes Up"! This is our custodian who keeps our school spic and span.

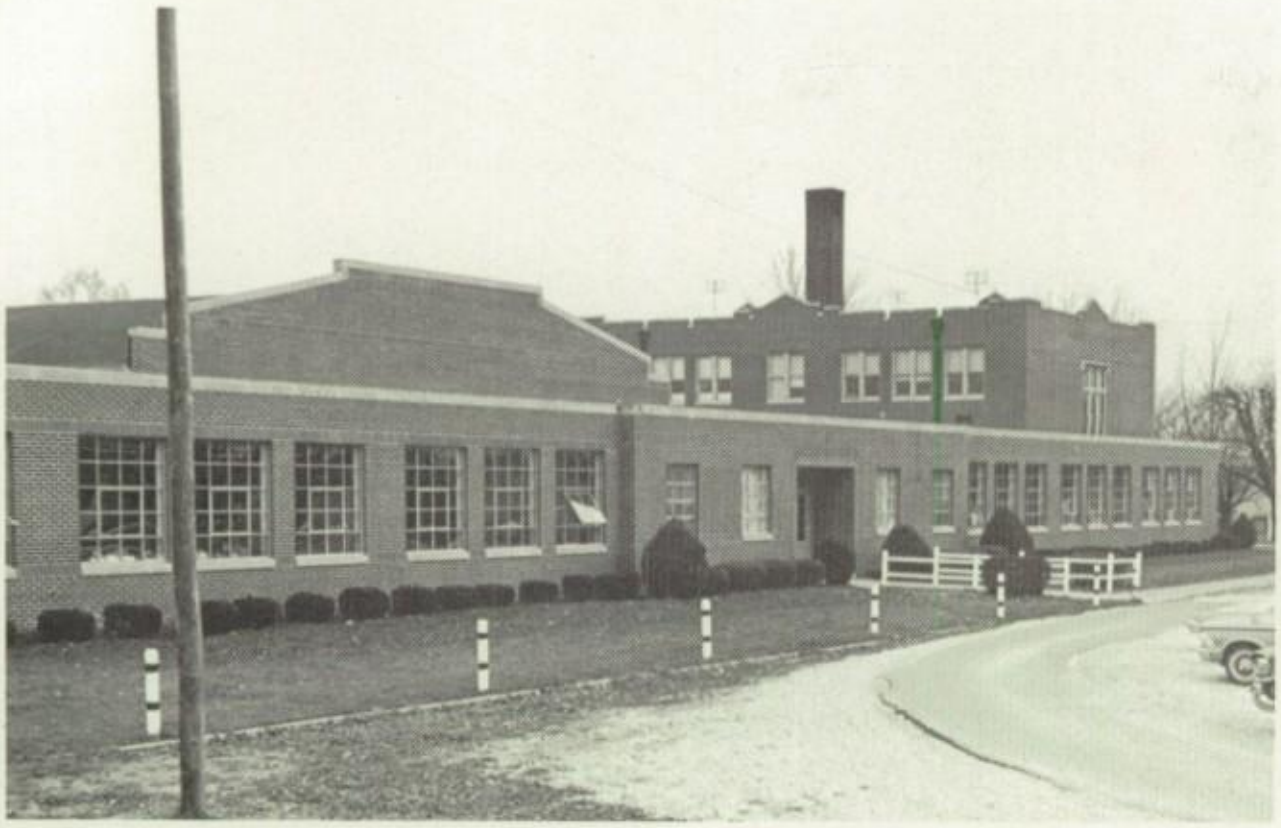
Our capable cooks, Mrs. Iola Land and Mrs. Lydia Montgomery, spend long hours planning and preparing menus to please every appetite. Nutritious, tasty meals are a welcome treat for students at the lunch break.

Mrs. Lydia Montgomery and Mrs. Iola Land

Our bus drivers transport students in all kinds of weather and perform their duties faithfully with "Safety" in mind. Transporting students in all kinds of weather, through rain, sleet, and snow is not always an easy task for the bus drivers. WE ARE PROUD OF our capable bus drivers.

Mr. Clayson Smock, Mr. Leroy Cody, Mrs. Katherine Brady, and Mrs. Arlene Wiley.

We Are Proud of



The North Salem, Lizton, and Pittsboro schools of the North West Hendricks Schools. These schools were inspected by the State Commission January 10 and 11. Superintendent Bruno Lupato reported that according to the reclassification the North Salem elementary and high school retained their First Class Commissions. Lizton, which had been given a Certified Classification, has been given a Continuous Commission. Pittsboro, which had a Continuous Classification, was reinstated with a First Class Commission.

The always exciting experience of entering school for the first time each new year was even more exciting this year for the students of the North Salem and Lizton Schools. The seventh and eighth graders of North Salem were transported by bus to the Lizton building while the high school students from Lizton were transported by bus to North Salem. As the doors to these schools and classrooms were opened each day so were the doors to something new and different.

These doors were opened, for knowledge, fun, and to gain an education. Behind these doors lie many memories, some happy; and some sad.

"As the twig is bent, the tree shall grow," so it was with the students of the North West Hendricks Schools. They have learned to choose their friends wisely, knowing that these friendships will remain forever. With the assistance and influence of the faculty, parents, and fellow students they have attained high standards and ideals.
